

ACH and Debit Card Storage Agreement

By toggling to “Yes,” you authorize Georgia Banking Company (“we,” “us,” or “our”) under this ACH and Debit Card Storage Agreement (“Agreement”) to store your indicated payment information for current and future payments. You represent and warrant that you are an owner or authorized signer on the bank account(s) and/or the debit card account(s) that you have indicated for payment(s) and authorize us to store that information on this service.

Solely by storing your payment information, you are not enrolling in any recurring payment programs, and you are still responsible for normal payments set forth in your loan agreement with us.

This Agreement will remain in full force and effect unless and until you contact us by calling 866.711.4530, Option 1, Monday through Friday 8:00AM – 4:00PM EST or by email at loanservicing@georgiabanking.com, until you pay off the loan subject to the payments, or the account is otherwise not due and owing. Your revocation will become effective three business days after our receipt of such notice. Your revocation of such will terminate your ability to make payments via the service. We may terminate your ability to make payments through the service at any time upon prior notice to you. If you cancel this Agreement or if we terminate it, you understand that you will be responsible for making your payments by another payment method. Terminating this Agreement does not affect your duty to repay your underlying obligation.

You agree that all transactions will apply with all applicable laws and rules, including, but not limited to, the Nacha Rules.
